

Hunter Ingram, Chief Executive Officer

Hunter Ingram is the president and Chief Executive Officer of HometownQuotes. As a co-founder of the company, it is with Ingram's leadership and optimism that HometownQuotes has become a top competitor in its industry. He manages the day to day operations and ensures premier service for customers, affiliates and agents.

Ingram began his education at the University of Memphis, where he started Southeast Wholesale – a nationwide distribution company.

Always interested in the insurance industry, he became licensed in 2002, sold Southeast Wholesale and moved back to his hometown of Nashville, Tennessee, where he completed his education at MTSU with a concentration in public relations.

After receiving his insurance license, Ingram founded Ingram Insurance Group. Shortly after starting the insurance company, Ingram had another business idea that would become his sole focus. It was through Ingram and business partner Bob Klee's vision of a one-stop-shop for insurance that HometownQuotes was conceived.

Ingram's honesty, casual sense of humor and entrepreneurial drive are key components to the company's success.

In all, he has launched three companies and sold the first two prior to dedicating all of his resources to HometownQuotes.

Ingram resides in Spring Hill with his wife and enjoys golfing in his spare time.
